

CRAYONS & cuties in Mrs. Key's First Grade Class

Our Week at a Glance

This week, we have been learning about Thanksgiving and what it means to be thankful. We read lots of engaging literature and completed fun activities. We have also spent lots of time working on Nonfiction Text Features.

We are working on using addition and subtraction equations: make true equations, add three numbers, word problems with three addends.

Next week, we will finish up our Thanksgiving fun. We will look at Character Changes in stories. We will focus on: -nk, (silent e), /ch/ & -tch, using -ck in words, and "Floss Rule", and sight words: thank, them, then, think, were

Practice words: thank, sunk, trunk, chunk, honk, drank

Practice Sentence: Bring me that drink.

love,
Mrs. Key

Upcoming Dates

Thursday, November 18: Progress Reports
November 24 – 26: Thanksgiving Holidays
Tuesday, November 30: Holiday Attire for Music
Friday, December 10: Stocking Stuffers due (info to come)
Friday, December 10: Pajamas at the Movies (info to come)
Monday, December 13: Polar Express Day! (info to come)
Friday, December 17: Holiday Party (sign up genius)
December 20 – January 6: Winter Break

Reminders

Don't forget to check your binders every night and return all signed paperwork, etc!

Please sign and return Progress Reports! Let me know if you have any questions!

Homework this week:

Weekly review sheet/Math Workshop Sheet
Read 15 mins. (don't forget to fill out reading chart)
Practice "Second Nine Weeks" sight words in binder

Our Class Needs: Clorox Wipes

