Class DOJO

Thank you so much for your support at home! I am so blessed to have dedicated parents who partner with me to help their child make their best choices and learn to their fullest potential! I just want you to know how grateful I am for each of you!

This Week...

This week we've learned all about the letter Nn and TWO sight words: you and do. Last week we didn't get to complete all of our you activities so we continued them this week.

We also learned about Veteran's Day! I am sending home a book they started but didn't get to finish (because it's a bit long), but I thought it would be a fun read as a family! Be sure to check it out in today's Friday folder.

We are working hard on our Daily 5 stamina right now! Please check out your Friday folder today for two important letters and a poster that explains more about what we are doing in Daily 5. This is a large part of our day and I want to make it meaningful and productive!

Last, but not least, I hope you were able to join the Veterans Appreciation Parade today! The kids LOVED it and it was so special to get to honor our veterans! I hope you enjoyed it!

Read to Self

Choose a book and start reading right away!

Read quietly.

Read the whole time.

Stay in one spot.

Build stamina.

Please check the important letters about Daily 5 in today's Friday folder!

Items Needed...

If you are out and about and would like to help with some items we need for the classroom, we would be so very appreciative!

- White cardstock
- Mesh bags like these...

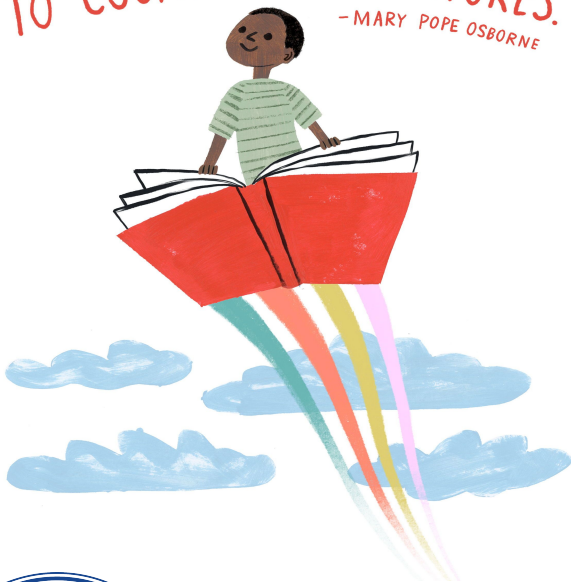

I have found they are easier to use to clean our center toys (especially legos, cubes, plastic tiles, etc.). I can soak them in the sink and then let them air dry each evening. Here is a link to see dimensions (although they can be any size):
